Change in Student Major: Overview

Courses completed in a particular discipline or program of study are considered as a major for students. During initial enrollment, students and enrollment advisors will explore various educational objectives. Students declare a major at the time of enrollment. Students may submit a major change at any time. Depending on the timing, the major change could be deferred to a later semester.

Considerations before changing a major:

- Previously completed coursework may not apply to the new major.
- Changing a major or program may affect federal financial aid eligibility or aspects of student's enrollment or completion date.
- It is important to discuss a major change with the
 - Financial Aid Office in SSB 200
 - Student Services Academic Advisement Office in SSB 100 or the appropriate Division Advisement Office.
 - Veteran Affairs in SSB 100 if receiving VA Educational benefits.
